Help bring a $10,000 grant home to the Neighborhood! Vote online!

Peppers, tomatoes, eggplant, beets, yellow and Zucchini squash, okra, cucumbers, string beans, and watermelon picked from just down the street- organic, local food at it's best!

West End's community farm at 779 Atwood is one of 10 finalists for the Greenworks grant program. Greenworks is going to award $10,000.00 grants to 5 of the 10 finalists. In order to win, everyone needs to log onto www.greenworkscleaners.com/greenhero and register to vote for the CVC (Creating Vibrant Communities) project. Vote every day until April 10 so we can accrue enough votes! This is such a great chance for this neighborhood asset to get the resources needed to make fresh safe food available to us. Help our farm GROW! ;)

If you are interested in buying a share in the farm to get fresh produce during the growing season or coming out to help on the farm (overalls optional), go to <http://www.nputatlanta.org/files/cvc-urban-farms-membership.pdf>

Susan,

Thanks for the info. I will make sure I put this in my next "What's happening West End"
