
Homeless Child in West End?

Posted by Susan and Rinchen - 2009/07/21 08:40

Has anyone noticed the homeless child in West End. He is probably about 12 or 13 and wears a navy/ hunter green hoodie and dark colored pants? Does anyone know the story about him? I have seen him a few times walking the streets, always in the same clothes, alone. Very, very sad. I know of groups that help homeless kids but I am wondering if anyone else knows something I don't as to who the child is.

Eek! I am such a dork! Neither a child nor a he! It is a very small adult woman. I talked to her. Still homeless, still sad but not a child.

I have seen this person on Hopkins. She appears happy. She talks about plants and how to take care of them. I do think she is high a lot. I think she makes money by pick up cans.
