All you have to do is check the avatar. :)

I'd also post a picture of my toddler, he's kind of like a pet, but more high maintenance. But I'm afraid that might get me in trouble!

edit I can't delete the image from inside of the board to make it a smaller size! I do apologize - I even found the smaller version on my desktop after I uploaded the wrong one. Whoops!

This is my Akita, Nikki, and her new cart. Nikki lost the use of her back legs on March 4 of this year, so she is getting around now with the help of this cart.

I did have two cats, but I gave them away. They were sickly and the foster family had good pet insurance. Here's a picture of the girls anyway:

My sister just found 5 baby (probably about 3 days old) in her yard. The shelters are all full. Does anyone want a kitten or know of anyone who wants kittens?

Please help my sister out because she HATES cats!
